Psalm 31

Response: I trust in you, O Lord, for you are my God.

- 9 Have mercy upon me, O Lord, for I am in trouble:
my eye wastes away for grief, my throat also and my inward parts.
- 10 For my life wears out in sorrow, and my years with sighing:
my strength fails me in my affliction, and my bones are consumed. R
- 11 I am become the scorn of all my enemies:
and my neighbours wag their heads in derision.
- 12 I am a thing of horror to my friends: R and those that see me in the street shrink from me.
- 13 I am forgotten like one dead and out of mind:
I have become like a broken vessel.
- 14 For I hear the whispering of many:
and fear is on every side; R
- 15 While they plot together against me:
and scheme to take away my life.
- 16 But in you, Lord, have I put my trust:
I have said `You are my God.' R
- 17 All my days are in your hand:
O deliver me from the power of my enemies and from my persecutors.
- 18 Make your face to shine upon your servant:
and save me for your mercy's sake. R
- Glory to the Father and to the Son
and to the Holy Spirit;
as it was in the beginning
is now and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

From the Rector

Dear Friends,

In years gone by the fifth Sunday of Lent (last Sunday) was Passion Sunday and this Sunday was Palm Sunday. Our current lectionary asks us to bring these two Sundays together so that we experience liturgically, what I call the two processions. The procession into Jerusalem when the crowds yelled 'Hosanna' and the procession to Golgotha, when the crowds yelled 'crucify him!' If our Lenten journey has been one of introspection, reflection, prayer we have perhaps found times when we are involved in both these crowds. Such is life! Yes it is difficult, tough; GK Chesterton put it well: Christianity has not been tried and found wanting; it has been found difficult and not tried.

Today and into this week we live that emotional roller coaster, we will come into church this morning celebrating and leave desolate, it is the story of the week. We are called more than ever to enter into these liturgical events and find in them our deepest selves.

We will gather on Thursday eve and celebrate the Eucharist as the disciples at the Last Supper. We will experience the profundity of the foot washing a deeply humbling, dare I say humiliating re-enactment and then we will be offered the opportunity to stay awake one short hour in Gethsemane. Friday we will experience the crucified Jesus who even from the cross leads us – deeply penitential. And then on Saturday eve we will gather around a candle and recall the story of our salvation as new life flickers into being. That new life will burst into light on Easter morning as we continue our celebration, the Gloria will ring out and the first Eucharist will be celebrated. We will then breakfast together before the solemnity of the Sung Easter Eucharist.

Austin Farrer wrote the shortest 'Gospel' ever, it applies to us and our lives of faith:

God gives you everything

Give everything to God

You can't

But Christ will make you able because he has risen from the dead.

A very Holy Week to you all, I look forward to marking these days with you for the first time.

Blessings, Martin
