

St Philip's Anglican Church O'Connor

Website Privacy Policy

This Website Privacy Policy summarises how St Philip's Church O'Connor (Parish) will deal with the personal information of visitors to our website.

The St Philip's Church O'Connor Privacy Policy describes how we protect and manage personal information, including sensitive information, consistent with the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) and the Australian Privacy Principles (APPs). For more information read our privacy policy on this website.

Commitment

St Philip's Church O'Connor (Parish) is committed to protecting the personal information of visitors to our website consistent with the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) and the Australian Privacy Principles (APPs).

By visiting our website, you agree to your personal information being used as set out in this Website Privacy Policy.

Why do we collect personal information?

We only collect personal information when submitted by you via the website or email. This may include contact details you provide when submitting a form to contact us, or emailing an address on the website.

No information that personally identifies you is collected when you simply browse the site.

What information do we collect and how do we use it?

Website

The Parish respects the privacy of visitors to our website. To inform improvements to our website, we may use non-identifying statistical information that is automatically collected when you visit the site, such as:

- Your server address
- Your top-level domain name (for example .com, .gov, .au etc)
- The date and time of your visit
- The pages you accessed and files downloaded
- Any website that has referred you to us, for example Google.
- The type of browser you are using.

The website may use small data files ('cookies') to track website usage and statistics. A cookie does not identify individuals personally, but it does identify computers. You can set your browser to refuse cookies, which may limit access to some functions.

Email

We may create an email subscription service, through which you may receive regular email updates about the work of the Parish and related organisations. You can unsubscribe from our email list at any time by using the 'unsubscribe' link on the emails.

Our email service provider may collect non-personal information from email campaigns for statistical purposes, such as:

- The date and time you opened the email
- The links clicked on from the email
- The type of device used to read the email.

If you provide your personal information to us, including via emails, we may use this information:

- To respond to your enquiries, including to enquiries submitted from our website.
- Where we have obtained your consent – to send you communications from time to time, including news or information that may be of interest to you.
- To comply with legal obligations as required by law.

Links to other sites

When you are on the Parish's website you could be directed to other sites that are beyond our control. There are also links to other sites from the that take you outside our service. These other sites may collect data or solicit personal information.

Disclosure of Information to Third parties

Your personal information will not be shared with third parties except:

- If you provide explicit consent.
- If required by law (including the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth)).
- With trusted website service providers who assist with website operation and analytics, and who are bound by confidentiality obligations.

Access and Correction

You may request to access or correct your personal information held by us. Please contact us at the details below for such requests. See our Privacy Policy at https://stphilipsoconnor.org.au/about/privacy_policy.php for more information.

Updates to This Policy

This policy was adopted on 14 October 2025. It may be updated from time to time. Any changes will appear on this page, and updates take effect immediately upon posting.
