Dear Everyone,

When I arrived to take up this short appointment in Rob's absence Parish Council asked if I would find a model of outreach that would suit the St. Philips community. Things have moved very quickly and through talking with others I ended up speaking to the Dean of Goulburn Cathedral, the very Reverend Philip Saunders. His recommendation was to use the "Catechumenate" process. Philip came to speak to members of the parish who attended the recent parish day at Burra. His talk was very valuable and well received by those who were present. The generally feeling was that it would be good give the process "a go" this coming year so we can work out our strengths and weaknesses and whether it would indeed be right for our church. Parish Council last meeting agreed to the idea and I have asked Brian McKinlay to be the lay co-ordinator for the process. Brian will work with myself and some other people to create a team to oversee the process. Philip Saunders has offered his experience and support. For those who have thought of it and those who haven't Rob has been consulted and agrees it is a good idea. Now you are probably all wondering what it is?!

The Catechumenate is similar to the RCIA program run by the Catholic Church and is based on the idea that people come to faith or a deeper understanding of their relationship with God through involvement with a worshipping community. It is not about telling people what they should believe. It is not about 'bringing someone to the truth' as if we owned it. It is about welcoming others, listening to their concerns and questions, journeying with them and providing experiences and a chance to reflect on them. The Catechumenate fits very well with our vision — to be a caring, Christian community which honours and embraces difference and offers a place to grow spiritually within the Anglican tradition. The process itself begins with an enquirers evening held towards the end of September and begins more formally the first Sunday of Advent. It ends at Pentecost. There are "slow" times in the journey and more "intense" times. The process is for those already attending church and for those seeking answers. Each person going through the process has a sponsor who can be a friend, a spouse, a parent or child or someone unknown to them. There will be various tasks for members of the St. Philips community to do which will hopefully not be too onerous and I hope potentially very enriching and rewarding. The main thing we can all do is to be welcoming, supportive and prayerful. Oh, and don't worry — we will not call it the catechumenate! I commend this model of outreach to you all. I am quietly very excited about it's possibilities and believe it will be a good experience for our community. I think we will a great deal and be blessed through God's faithfulness to our attempts to live the Good News. If you have any questions or concerns please ask!

I am saddened to inform you that Ruth Horn, the mother of Elizabeth Silano died last week. As many of you are aware we have been praying for Ruth for along period of time.

Finally, many of you would have met my mother Ruth who has been staying with David and I for a couple of weeks. Mum had a severe heart attack last Sunday and was admitted to Canberra Hospital coronary care. She is now home with us but is too unwell to travel back to Newcastle at this stage. I will need to work from home while she is with us and for this week will need to cancel morning and evening prayer at the church (I will be praying at home!) and Christian meditation on Tuesday evening. I will be regularly checking the messages on the office phone and I can be contacted on my mobile as well.

Have a great week everyone

Peace and Blessings

Rebecca Newland
