Dear Friends,

Today we are worshipping with the Praise, Prayer and Proclamation service at the front of the Prayer Book.

It is a lovely liturgy and often used as a stand alone service instead of morning or evening prayer. We will add Communion at the end. Enjoy!!

For those of you who will not be with us today, but read the pewsheet on email, I will include here a wonderful quotation from the Service:

Let us approach the throne of grace with confidence, so that we may receive mercy and find grace to help us in our time of need. Hebrews 4.16

Next Sunday is Halloween - All Hallows Eve - so we will celebrate All Saints Day with joy and thanksgiving for all our loved ones whom we believe are now with God. Come with a pencil to write down the names of friends and family members, and we will find a place for them somewhere in the Parish grounds.
May the grace and mercy of God be with us all, Jeannette.

Robin and Linda attended the Conference of the Australian Anglican Diaconal Association recently. Almost all of the Diocesan Deacons attended and deacons from many parts of the country joined us. Some are: hospital chaplains, aged care workers, parish ministers and there are deacons who do none of these things.

Robin hosted a visit to the Northbourne Community. Linda enjoyed hearing of the confusion that the church is in over "orders" (bishop, priest, deacon). We prayed, sang, listened, thought and discussed.

Our diocese seems to have the largest and most coherent group of deacons. Many dioceses only have a very small number of deacons.

Gathering together was a very useful experience. Linda.
